

Judy Caldwell

Judy graduated from Boston University with a degree in History of Art. She also holds a Certificate and Post Baccalaureate degree from the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts.

Over the past 30 years, she has shown in numerous juried and solo shows. Her work is in many private and corporate collections: most notably, the McGraw Hill collection, the Fellowship collection at the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts and the White House Christmas collection.

My painting celebrates my childhood memories and visions, as I grew up on my grandfather's apple farm in New Hampshire. My paint, mind, and body continue to explore this landscape: hearing the rushing of birch leaves, warmed by the sun's dappling on the forest floor, or being refreshed by rain as it slips off the maple trees above.

I am barefoot in my studio or dance to the breeze outdoors, as I listen to my intuitive selection of color. I apply paint mostly with pieces of wood or my hands so I can remain free to move with spontaneous abandon as I, once again, can come home.
